

We Are "Stepping On It."

IT is related of the new premier of Japan that, interrupted by the horrors of the recent great earthquake, in which the building in which he was organizing his cabinet collapsed, calmly moved to another building and proceeded with his work.

Such mental attitude must remain incomprehensible to the Occidental mind. We confess to a knowledge of war, and take no shame if our emotions advertise the fact.

But the Oriental places no such value on life as do we of the western lands. The conduct of great affairs had been entrusted to the premier. Their administration was the matter of first consideration. He proceeded, leisurely, with the business even while his empire reeled dizzily under his feet, and million or more of his countrymen were making the final long traverse in circumstances of unparalleled tragedy!

We cannot do things in that way. We refuse to be deliberate. We live fast, and each day we are living faster. We are indifferent to the use of brakes. In the expressive vernacular, we "step on it," and think we are speeding in the way of superior accomplishment.

This is abnormal. There is no need for the mad haste of the western world—haste in business, in industry, in the pursuit of pleasure. At present we imagine ourselves gods in the machine, but if the neurologists are right—and there is much reason for believing that they may be—we are speeding toward a goal where the machine rules as a god.

And the worst aspect of this situation is that the vast majority of those who today are "stepping on it" are composed not of the basically useful and productive units of the race, but of the wastrels, the idlers, the social barons, the buccaneers of wit and sharp practice; and the repercussions from this demented and vertiginous dance toward destruction affect, and inevitably harmfully influence, the saving minority. We are caught up in the mad whirl despite ourselves and, before we realize the fact, we also are hurriedly "stepping on it" in reckless competition with the chaotic characters, with the gas, perspiration, the curses, the prayers and the unremitted, must spell the collapse of the modern social fabric.

Acknowledging The Inevitable

THE decision of the German cabinet to give up resistance in the Ruhr amounts to an unconditional surrender as far as the government is concerned, but it may have a different result with the monarchists and communists. In capitulating the government has yielded to the inevitable, for while it could annoy and thwart the desires of the French it could not break the grip on Germany's throat. This, however, may not have been so clear to the mass of Germans. Those in official position have means of knowing much that is denied to the rank and file. In addition opponents of the present form of government, while realizing the situation, may at the same time regard it as a favorable moment for upsetting the regime.

It might be possible for factions as far apart as the poles in what they ultimately desire to bring about to be united in opposition to the government with the joint purpose of effecting its overthrow, each hoping to erect on the ruins the particular structure which each desires. Thus while official resistance to the French and Belgians may end, the effect on Germany internally leaves much unsettled. If the government is strong enough to hold in check the diverse elements the way may be opened to final adjustment of the reparations question, and the inauguration of a better era not only for Germany and France but for all of Europe.

That Germany has decided finally that yielding is the only possible course is a vindication of the policy of France. The latter contended that an exhibition of force was the only argument that could be recognized by Germany. It has been expensive for both sides, having cost many lives and $1,000,000,000. It would have been far better for Germany to have met her obligations honorably than to have invited the long impasse, but if it ends now and internal conflict in Germany is avoided, peace at last may be realized. Europe will have no further excuse for not settling down to work. But for the present eyes will be strained to discern the reaction of the German citizenship to the capitulation. That is the uncertain factor.

An Irishman boarded a car the other day, but after a word with the conductor made for the door again.

An inspector who happened to be on the car said to him: "Surely you don't want to get off again so soon, and besides, you haven't paid your fare."

"Oh, I want to go to Southern street," said the Irishman, "and the conductor says there ain't no such place."

"Well, there isn't," answered the inspector.

"Then, faith, an' pwat's the good of going there, then?"

IS YOUR CHILD DELICATE

I have often wondered why parents will say "You know John or Mary is delicate and so I don't ask them to do much around the house."

John gets out of cutting the grass or taking out ashes, and Mary is not required to do any household chores.

Now if John or Mary is delicate the family doctor should be consulted. Don't ask him for a good tonic for them but ask him to take a look over them. There must be a reason for calling them delicate and let him help you to find it.

Youngsters that are considered delicate lose a large part of the necessary training in life. From the moral and mental standpoint they lose heavily indeed.

A "delicate" boy can be just a little slack in his attendance at school, in his general care of clothes and body, and in his general conduct in school or in the home and the old cry goes up, "Oh, he is delicate."

Now the mental and moral is hardly my field, but I believe you will agree with me in the above statement.

Now what about him physically?

The same old error occurs. He is allowed to get up when he likes, eat what he likes, go to bed when he likes and does not indulge in any exercise or games because he does not like them.

Now when you come to think of it, isn't it absurd?

Why the youngster after being overhauled by the family physician should have more thought and care spent on him from a hygienic standpoint than a normal child.

And as a matter of fact he has less, because the bugbear "he is so delicate" is allowed to interfere with progress, mental, moral and physical.

So if you have a "delicate" child see that he gets outdoors every day, gets good food and only at mealtime, that he gets at least ten hours sleep and that he is encouraged to play like other children. Now isn't that a reasonable proposition?

Feminine Ways Unfathomable.

"I notice that many of the girls on their way to work carry their hats in their hands," remarked Mr. Brown.

"So I have noticed," replied his friend.

"Why is that?"

"Well, the days are warm. And their hats, I take it, are more of less oppressive," carefully explained friend Jones.

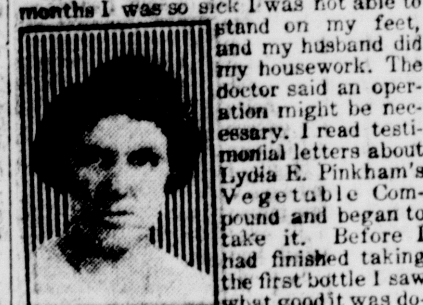

"In that case why do they not leave their hats at home and save all the trouble of carrying them?"

"Now, my friend, you are asking me to follow you into the realms of the unfathomable."

WOMAN SO ILL COULD NOT STAND

Says Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound Made Her Well and Strong

Glens Falls, N. Y.—"For over two months I was so sick I was not able to stand on my feet, and my husband did my housework. The doctor said an operation might be necessary. I read testimonials about Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound and began to take it. Before I had finished taking the first bottle I saw what good it was doing me. I am now well and strong, doing all my work for a family of four, all my washing and my sewing, which I think is remarkable, as I had not dared to run my sewing machine, but had done all my sewing by hand. I truly feel that were it not for your medicine I would not be here today as my case seemed very serious."—Mrs. GEORGE W. BURCHELL, Glens Falls, N. Y.

Celebrated Belgian Fowls.

The village of Bruckel, in Belgium, enjoys the fame of having originated one of the most celebrated races of domestic fowls. The Belgians do not hesitate to assert that the Brackel hens are unequalled for the excellence and number of their eggs, while the roosters have developed, thanks to generations of cultivation and influence of "crowing tournaments," a power and rhythm of voice equally unrivaled. The breeders have a theory that the musical contests in which the Brackel roosters are trained serve to develop the peculiar qualities of the race. However this may be, it is certain that cultivation has differentiated these fowls from all others.

BANKER DENOUNCES STATE MANAGEMENT

Says Government Isn't Fit To Run Business At All.

Atlantic City, N. J., Sept. 25. — Denouncing government management of business as "a demonstration of its disqualification in that field," Charles E. Mitchell, president of the National City Bank of New York, in an address today before the general convention of the American Bankers Association, demanded "economy in government expenditures that will bring relief from taxation as fast as it can be given." He advocated an immediate revision of the "present income surtaxes that dam the natural flow of wealth in the channels of wealth producing enterprise and divert it into tax exempt investments that mean state and municipal non-productive development and waste."

"We are enjoying in this country today a real state of prosperity," he added, "and we should be cognizant of it and instill, so far as we are able, a spirit of confidence throughout 'business America' that will extend the life of the prosperous period. I am not afraid of the ability of this country to compete in the long run and to secure an ample share of world trade, provided we now recognize that competition is coming, that it is going to be vigorous and that to meet it we must loosen every restraint to American industrial development to the end that in this country there may be an efficiency which will overcome a higher standard of living and still make us able to do business on the world's price level."

Double Braking Efficiency
Buick Four-Wheel Brakes

Buick four-wheel brakes, because they double the braking surface brought into action, increase the braking efficiency of the car practically 100 per cent.

The action is simple, positive and rapid. A slight pressure on the service pedal (the method of operation is unchanged) and all four wheels are retarded—the car is quickly, smoothly and safely brought to a stop. With these proved Buick four-wheel brakes a stop is made in a much shorter distance with a minimum of skidding danger.

Obtaining braking friction at four contacts with the road increases the braking power and lessens the wear on each brake lining and each tire.

The 1924 Buick models, with four-wheel brakes, a more powerful engine, beautiful new bodies and numerous other advanced features fully exemplify the Buick policy of incorporating every improvement that will give greater safety, comfort and satisfaction to the owner.

SEBRING WOMAN KILLED IN CRASH

Fatally Injured When Cars Collide In Dense Fog Sunday Night.

Alliance, Sept. 25.—Miss Stella Sanders, 20, of 176 West Michigan ave., Sebring, was fatally injured when an automobile driven by Rurell McCausland, 1535 South Rockhill rd., collided with a machine driven by Earl Petticord, of 135 West Florida ave., Sebring.

Grace Bable, 18, of Sebring, is recovering from a crushed chest. Jack Oliver, also of Sebring, received an injured shoulder and bruises. McCausland escaped with minor injuries.

The fatal accident occurred on the Fairmount rd. approximately five miles south of Alliance Sunday night. Miss Sanders sustained a fractured skull. She died Monday morning at the Alliance City hospital.

According to McCausland, the party was returning to Alliance after taking Miss Jennie McCausland, a school teacher, to Paris. He asserted he was driving slowly on account of the dense fog, but with dim lights on both cars, was unable to see the Petticord machine.

In attempting to avoid the collision McCausland said he turned towards the right curbing, but was side-swiped, his car being turned over. The Petticord machine is said to have remained upright, but was badly damaged.

Miss Sanders and Oliver were in the rear seat. Miss Bable and McCausland were in the front seat. McCausland was pinned in the car by the steering wheel.

Records at the hospital indicate Miss Sanders was a potter's worker. Miss Bable is also employed at a pottery, while Oliver is a laborer in Sebring.

FIRST ADD OKLAHOMA

Senator Harry, one of the leaders, "we have men who have been on both ends of a gun."

Rumors Spread Through the City

Wild rumors spread through the city. One report was to the effect that the military was about to raid the headquarters of the "rebel" legislators so the leaders could be taken into custody was denied by Col. W. S. Key, commander of the military zone of Oklahoma.

The governor's signed "military order" to Adjutant General Baird H. Markham was the most vigorous edict he has so far handed out and removed all doubt as to the executive's intention to prevent the house session called by his executive opponents to consider his impeachment.

The troops were ordered to "shoot to kill" if necessary. All men between the ages of 21 and 45 were ordered to arm themselves with "such arms as they possess" or can obtain and come to the assistance of the sovereign state of Oklahoma when ordered to do so by the governor.

The adjutant general was ordered to disperse the assembly if he had to use the state's entire military forces. The governor reiterated his charge that the proposed meeting would be an "unlawful assemblage" which would be "dominated by the so-called 'invisible empire,' commonly known as the Ku Klux Klan."

Oklahoma City, Sept. 25.—True to his promise, Gov. J. C. Walton put his own newspaper on the streets of Oklahoma City today.

It is called "The Record" and made its appearance at a time when excitement was high and military officials were in conference with the governor on plans to prevent "by use of arms if necessary" the assemblage tomorrow which Gov. Walton terms the "Ku Klux legislature."

Vol. 1, No. 1, of The Record carried sensational headlines directed at the invisible empire. Its issuance follows statements of the government that local newspapers are not printing all the news.

The lead story carried this caption: "Are You For the American Republic or the Invisible Empire?"

A four column article captioned "Conspiracy" cited section 19 of the federal criminal code, in which it was stated that if "two or more persons conspire to injure, oppress, threaten, or intimidate any citizens in the free exercise of any rightful privilege secured by the constitution of the United States that shall be fined not more than $50,000 and imprisoned not more than 10 years."

Tulsa, Okla., Sept. 25.—A corps of militiamen early today dismantled the fiery cross which on a high hill, just outside of Sapulpa, had been blazing in defiance to Gov. Walton, and his order against the display of this Ku Klux Klan insignia.

Just after midnight the military made a sortie across Creek county line. The cross about 20 feet high, was brought to the armory.

SPLENDID LOVE STORY AT STATE

At the State theater Monday night was shown one of the best pictures that Salem has ever seen, a picture of life in reality. A packed house saw the vivid story unfolded and saw the ultimate happiness that two members of life's merry-go-round secured for themselves.

"Merry-go-Round" is essentially a love story, but a psychological, deeply dramatic one, analysing and mirroring the movements of life and showing some of the justice in bitter tragedies. The defeat of Austria at the hands of the Allies, crushing the pride that was hers, is shown in the story as an incident in the march toward happiness of the two souls handicapped by their extreme difference in social positions.

Mary Philbin, a new "discovery" plays the role of a girl of the Prater, an organ grinder of Vienna's Conny Island. Norman Kerry impersonates a proud young scion of nobility whose love for the girl is without sincerity at first to force a way for happiness through the maze of social restrictions surrounding them.

Cosare Gravina as the girl's father, George Hackathorne as the hunchback friend of the girl, George Seigmann, Al Edmundson, Sidney Bracy, Anton Vavarka, Lillian Sylvester, Dorothy Wallace, Spottiswoode Alken, Edith Yorke, Dale Fuller, Maude George, Albert Conti and several other players of note handle principal roles.

GULBRANSEN
The Player-Piano
Easy to Play Nationally Priced

When the purchase of a Player Piano is being considered probably the first thing you will want to know is, "How easily does it play?"

Did you ever try a Gulbransen?

The ease of pedaling is a thing which demonstrates itself at once.

It is not necessary to push hard and you must actually restrain your impulse to do so.

You can play a Gulbransen leisurely, irregularly, putting just the right expression and "feeling" into the music.

In spite of their easy action the pedals do not die away under your feet, nor tremble when you pedal slowly. You can bring out a crash in the music and next instant have it down to a mere whisper.

Don't you think you would like to learn more about a Player Piano that can be played with as much satisfaction and freedom from noticeable effort as is the case with the Gulbransen?

Let us demonstrate this instrument. You are under no obligation.

The price is very reasonable when you consider the real value of the piano.

INFORMALLY OPEN COUNTY HIGHWAY

Commissioner Is First To Pass Over Lisbon To Liverpool Road.

Lisbon, Sept. 25.—The Lincoln highway to East Liverpool was opened late Monday and County Commissioner Patrick McNiel, homeward bound from the weekly session here, was one of the first to pass over the new stretch of hilly.

Opening of the highway came as a surprise since conflicting reports said that it would not be ready for traffic until tomorrow. Late last night many motorists, unaware that the stream of traffic had shifted from dirt to brick, made their way over the roller coaster route.

Formal opening of the new road will not take place for several days, however, and the county engineer's office today warned all drivers that they use the road at their own risk. That is that men and teams will still continue at work and not speeding will be permitted. Should motorists fail to use judgment, it is threatened, the highway may again be closed and traffic diverted over the detour.

But for dampness early this morning, the work of tarring the last stretch of several hundred feet would have been accomplished in time to open the highway at noon, as the contractor, C. W. Millar & Co., Youngstown, had promised the night before. But tarring operations were held up for several hours until the bricks were dry enough to take the tar readily, and this caused reports that it might be another day before the new route would be ready.

The detour signs at each end are still up, although the barricades have been taken down. This accounts for so many travelers taking the detour.

Work on the highway was started early last spring. Actual construction was tardy due to the fact that the contractor had two other road jobs and was using small forces on each one.

Two detours were first placed in use, although neither was ever placed in good shape. One was intended for traffic in one direction, while the other was provided for traffic bound in the other direction.

The Elkhon roller coaster detour originally was nine miles long, leading through Elkhon over poor macadam. The Black Hill detour, five miles long, one of the worst dirt roads in the county, was frequently used for two-way traffic, making it extremely dangerous.

Both were virtually impassable when rain fell. Scores of cars have been wrecked in them during spring and summer. Scores of other cars have been stalled in the mud over night. Motorists often parked their cars for the night and traveled home on the interurban.

Demand that the detour through Elkhon be shortened caused the engineer's office to speed up the contract, so to the end that the highway might be bricked as far as the Spence farm, where a road hitting the detour intersected the highway. This was finished shortly after July 4, since which time the detour has been four miles long.

DRUGGED BY FRIENDS

Thomas Meighan Has Strong Role in "The Ne'er-Do-Well."

Drugged and shipped penniless to Panama is Thomas Meighan's lot in his latest Paramount picture, "The Ne'er-Do-Well," coming to the Royal theater Wednesday, Thursday and Friday. Several of his friends, while celebrating a football victory, decide that it would be a good joke to send Kirk Anthony (Meighan) to Panama without a cent to his name. This is done, and many amusing incidents follow. "The Ne'er-Do-Well" is a comedy-drama written by Rex Beach. Lila Lee plays opposite the star, and John Miller and Laurence Wheat are included in the cast. 226b

BRIEF

Final Holiday

Next Wednesday will be the final half holiday for Salem store managers and employees this season. It is the custom for stores and offices to close their places of business one afternoon each week during the months of June, July, August and September, next Wednesday being the last closing day.

Mrs. Clay's Class Supper

All the girls of Mrs. Harry Clay's class of the First Christian church are asked to meet at her home Wednesday night for a covered dish supper. Mrs. Clay will provide sandwiches and the girls are asked to bring other dishes, going to the Clay home at 5:30. Business of importance will be discussed at this gathering.

Greenwood School Fair

Greenwood school will hold a fair Thursday evening at the schoolhouse, Garfield rd. and in connection with it a show will be given. There will be all kinds of exhibits to add interest to the event and prizes will be awarded the winners. No admission will be charged. Leonard Hively is teacher of the school.

Wesleyan Class Meeting

The girls of the Wesleyan class of the Methodist church will meet Thursday night at the home of Mrs. Christy Hanson, Franklin ave. The associate hostesses will be Misses Nellie McCord and Edith Gross.

Matinee Wednesday

The matinee for "Merry-Go-Round" at the State theatre announced in Monday's News for Thursday will be at 2:30 Wednesday.

MONEY ALL SPENT

(Continued from first page.) He added that so far as he was personally concerned, they "were welcome to whatever they could get."

Although the delegation was told that the county was in no position to say what aid it might give while other roads in the county needed improvements, the trustees remained, debating the question. Finally Chairman John H. Keir drew the two other commissioners into a private conference in the auditor's office. In a few minutes the three returned.

Two Weeks To Decide

"We've decided to take this under advisement," Mr. Keir explained, "and to let you know what we can do in two weeks."

With this, the delegation withdrew. One step taken by the board today will be hailed with delight by those who live about Salineville, Dunganen, Millport, Summitville and other communities. The old narrow brick road through Hephner hollow is to be leveled by cold-patching before winter.

Traveling over the road this afternoon in a heavy car, the commissioners were jolted repeatedly by the deep depressions in the roadway, caused by the drop of bricks. Much of the road needs only a few patches to make it serviceable, but there are stretches where the foundation has so given way that the bricks are on end and depressions which extend for many yards. The road is a little more than four years old.

By patching the road under jurisdiction of the county engineer's office as a force-account job, the board estimates it will not take more than $2,000 to put the road in shape and so remove one route of horror from the county. Traffic over the Hephner hollow road is heavy.

Butler Grange Program

When Butler grange meets Thursday evening at the hall, near Winona, the men of the grange will respond to roll call with telling "My Favorite Bread, Homemade or Baked, and Why" while the women will name their favorite fruit butter and tell how to make it. Other numbers on the program are:

Mrs. W. E. Stokes Accuses Twenty

W. E. Stokes and Mrs. Helen Elwood Stokes

The prolonged and bitter divorce litigation between W. E. D. Stokes, New York multi-millionaire hotel owner and sportsman, who a few years ago was the victim of the "shooting show girls," and his wife, a former Denver (Colo.) belle, reached a climax when Mrs. Stokes asked State's Attorney Crowe of Chicago for the indictment of a score of persons. She charges they have furnished her husband with false affidavits that she was the "Helen Norcross" who, 12 years ago, was an inmate of the notorious Everleigh club of Chicago. She asks prosecution for perjury and conspiracy. Minnie Everleigh, in Paris, has sworn that Mrs. Stokes was not "Helen Norcross." In his original divorce suit, Stokes named his own son as a correspondent, but later withdrew the allegation. Mrs. Stokes is his second wife. She was completely exonerated in the original suit, but the trial judge died before the papers were signed, and the case must be tried again.

Lloyd George To Pay First Visit To United States

David Lloyd George, Mrs. Meg Lloyd George, Major G. Lloyd George and David Lloyd George

Ex-Premier David Lloyd George of Great Britain, the little Welshman who piloted the British ship of state through the world war, will sail on Sept. 29 for his first visit to the United States and Canada. He has turned down an offer of more than $100,000 to lecture, but will make several speeches while in this country. Mr. Lloyd George will be accompanied by his wife, Dame Lloyd George; his daughter; and inseparable companion, Megan Lloyd George, and his son, together with his secretarial staff.

Government Ledger Shows Big Surplus For This Year

Administration's Economy And Increasing Income Are Given As Reason's For Favorable Balance Of $400,000,000.

Washington, Sept. 25.—The government's ledger will show a surplus of $400,000,000 this fiscal year as a result of a steadily increasing income and the administration's economy program, treasury officials estimated today. This figure is double that of previous surplus estimates and practically assures a reduction of federal taxes by the next congress.

What form tax reductions will take is not yet officially known. The treasury department's experts are studying the question, but have not yet submitted their conclusions to Secretary of the Treasury Mellon. The secretary will defer for some time announcement of his recommendations to congress. His annual report goes to congress in December, soon after it convenes. His recommendations, however, will be framed within the next 30 days, as some of the phases of tax reduction already have been the subject of discussion by the president and his cabinet.

Want Taxes Lower
Strong pressure will be exerted in both the house and senate for lowering the rates on moderate incomes. Advocates of this plan are gaining new support and indications are that unless this is done they will oppose efforts of the administration to reduce sur-tax rates on large incomes.

Soldiers' bonus supporters are heartened by the certain prospect of a big treasury surplus, as they figure it will stimulate the campaign both for a bonus and for tax reductions. Bonus supporters do not anticipate that the tax reduction program will militate against them.

Within another year experts estimate that it should be possible to confine government spending to within a $2,500,000,000 limit, as against the present estimated expense account of $3,000,000,000.

While the federal income tax collected this year probably will not much exceed the total of last year—a total of $2,000,000,000—corporate taxes probably will approximate $600,000,000, or nearly double the year's figure. These taxes collected by the internal revenue bureau in its clearing up of tax appeal congestion may equal that of last year—$300,000,000. Not

And so do the children

Some Families Are Never Ill

FORTUNATE are the children whose parents fully realize the seriousness of constipation. Hospital records prove that 75 per cent of all disease originates in bowels obstruction, or constipation. Young children cry because of it; school children are hampered in their studies; grown people are made 25 per cent less efficient; elderly people's blood pressure increases 25 per cent. Realizing this Mrs. Carrie Moss of 1711 Church st., Lynchburg Va., Mr. Louis C. Grah of 1569 Winton ave., Lakewood, Ohio, and innumerable others, give a spoonful of Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin at the first sign of constipation, and have no sickness among their children.

Largest Selling Laxative

Every up-to-date family medicine chest should contain a bottle of Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin, a compound of Egyptian senna with pepsin and palatable aromatics, a prescription written 30 years ago by Dr. W. B. Caldwell, who practiced medicine 47 years. You can buy a bottle in any store where medicines are sold, and the cost is less than a cent a dose. We guarantee that if you will give Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin to a child or for a few nights to an adult it will relieve any case of constipation no matter how chronic, or your money will be refunded.

10 Million Bottles a Year

Use it once and you will never again take coal-tar drugs in candy form, calomel or salts. Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin is a vegetable laxative free from opiates and narcotics. It can be safely given to infants, yet it effectively moves the bowels of adults. It acts gently; does not cramp or gripe. Keep it in the house and use it for any indication of bowel obstruction such as constipation, biliousness, torpid liver, dyspepsia, pimples and like skin eruptions. Give it early and it will break up a fever or a cold overnight. A spoonful proves it.

If You Want to Try It Free Before Buying—Syrup Pepsin, 417 Washington St., Monticello, Illinois.

LEGION'S PROBLEM IS HOW TO CARE FOR WAR ORPHANS

Will Consider Their Care At National Convention Oct. 15-19.

Indianapolis, Sept. 25.—How to care for from 250,000 to 500,000 orphans of the World War is the problem the American Legion will consider at its national convention in San Francisco, Oct. 15-19.

Tentative plans for this project, which experts believe will be as difficult as that of relief for disabled veterans, were considered at a recent meeting of the legion's war orphans' committee in Indianapolis. While definite statistics are not available, it is estimated that the greatest number who must receive assistance of some kind from municipalities, counties, states, the federal government or the legion will be 500,000 children.

The committee will recommend the building of a number of national homes in various parts of the country for dependent children of legion members and service men not members of the legion who died before May 1, 1919.

In addition to the national home a supplementary system will be inaugurated whereby dependent children can be placed with foster parents, after careful investigation. The welfare of the children will be guarded by local legion posts after they have been placed in private homes, according to the committee.

The committee will ask the national gathering for authority to accept gifts of suitable buildings, money and land. A number of offers have already been made to the legion of land and money. Among them is 285 acres of land and $125,000 offered by Dan Dabney of Independence, Kan., and the Kansas department of the legion. Another offer has come from George L. Berry, president of the International Printing Pressmen's union, former national vice commander of the legion, who has asked the organization to accept 200 acres of Tennessee land, valued at $20,000.

The committee's decision was reached after it had heard the testimony of many experts in child welfare and the care of orphans, including C. W. Areson, New York, director of the Child Welfare League of America; William P. McLean, superintendent of the Boys' Industrial school at Topeka, Kan.; A. N. Farmer, Des Moines, who has conducted a survey of orphans for the Brotherhood of American Yeomen; Dr. Frederick A. Perry, of Adrian, Mich., superintendent of the Indiana Soldiers' and Sailors' home.

Watching The Giants

Needing but two more victories of the seven games they have to play to clinch the National League pennant, the Giants opened a two-game series with the Reds Monday. If the Giants win both of their games from Cincinnati they will clinch the pennant. If they break even they will need only one more victory. If they should lose both games they will have their lead reduced to two games and will have to do their pennant clinching in the four games they have with the Dodgers and the lone game with the Braves.

The schedule favors the Giants in the remaining games if the fight is carried on to the end. While they will be battling with the weaker teams in the east, the Reds will have to fight Chicago and Pittsburgh.

EXPERT COFFROTH WILL ATTEMPT TO STAGE BIG FIGHT

New York, Sept. 25.—James W. Coffroth, proponent of hoof and fist affairs out California way, has yet to emerge from the silence since his arrival in the east, but according to information received from a far western source he has some plausible arguments to offer when he attempts to line up Dempsey and Willis for a heavyweight championship bout at Tia Juana. So far Coffroth has maintained a marked reserve in discussions of the enterprise, but it is understood he is to confer with Jack Kearns before the latter leaves town and "proposition" his as follows:

He, Coffroth, will promote the bout at his Tia Juana track early in the year, offering each fighter a fist guarantee, deemed commensurate with the ability and drawing power.

The arena, seating more than 50,000 to be built on a level stretch of ground near the track but slightly higher than it. Racing is to be suspended for the day.

Proof of his financial ability to swing the enterprise will be given and the offering of an absolute guarantee that the fight will be held without official interference.

During That Awful Fuel Shortage

YOU were on your last ton of coal, and couldn't get another load for love or money. There might be soft coal in a week or ten days. The fuel company wouldn't promise. Then you phoned the electric company for a little heater, and what relief when it arrived! How cozy and warm and radiant! How it helped on those extra cold days and early mornings when the furnace was so long getting started.

There it is in the closet now—your little heater—waiting to come out and keep you cordial company on the first chilly day of autumn. The comfort it has given and will give is never listed in your light bill. You get that extra when you pay a few cents for the electricity consumed.
